ADMINS, Inc. Installs AUC Human Resources Application at Plainville, CT
October 29, 2009

ADMINS, Inc., the provider of municipal financial, revenue and human resources software and related services, announced that the Town of Plainville, Connecticut is now live on the ADMINS Unified Community Human Resources module.

Located in central Connecticut, 14 miles southwest of Hartford, Plainville successfully completed their implementation of the fully integrated General Ledger, Accounts Payable, Purchasing, and Human Resources modules of the ADMINS Unified Community solution.

"AUC meets our needs on several levels," said Rob Buden, Finance Director for the Town of Plainville. "It is user friendly, easy to train not only the Finance and Human Resources staff but other, decentralized offices as well". Buden expects the Human Resources module will "minimize manual processes, improve accuracy and streamline daily operations. The Town will leverage the new technology to provide faster access to information that can now be viewed and efficiently printed in many different ways. The reports can also be exported to Excel or PDF formats, giving us the ability to further process and reformat the data as needed. It's a real world accounting information system."
